Grotei #14-x--Grown from seed imported from Africa. As it has not been classified I do not know whether it is a sub-species or a variation. It is NOT a trailer. It is a medium sized very upright plant, with no side-shoots. Has smooth, ovate, medium light gray-green leaves. Flowers clear violet-blue #4 with no shading, in clusters of 6 to 8. Rather slow grower, blooms heavily.

Lady Carolyn--Not my origination. Deeply cut, medium green girl leaves. Flowers slightly ruffled, red-violet #4 with darker edging and markings, slightly bi-color. The general effect is rosy.

Aida--Medium dark heart-shaped leaves, slightly spooned, scalloped edges, "girl" spot at base. Flowers violet-red #4.

Beggar Prince--Not my origination. Flat growth. Deeply cut girl leaves. Deep reddish orchid bicolor flowers.

Fontana--Registered. Heavily marked and crenellated girl foliage. Large maroon bicolor flowers.

Lady Inez--Upright growth. Medium green round girl leaves. Right medium blue flowers.

Senora Ramona--Not my origination. DuPont type, upright growth. Makes a very large plant. Very large wine colored flowers.

Pacific Prince--Registered. Upright growth, very dark smooth leaves, with deep red backs and stems. Brilliant blue flowers.

Pacific Redwood--Registered. Rather flat growth. Very dark smooth leaves, with red backs and stems. If grown in the right light will spoon heavily. Brilliant blue flowers.
